

Permit Obligation (Import and Export Restrictions)

1. General

If in Tares the "Display details" page bears a specific reference under "Permit obligation", goods of the corresponding tariff heading (and, where appropriate, of the corresponding statistical key) may be imported or exported only on presentation of an import or export permit issued by the permit office mentioned, or it must be possible to demonstrate permit-exempt importation or export. For the import taxation of goods subject to a permit issued by the Federal Office for Agriculture or réservesuisse, the use of a computerized clearance system is compulsory.

Permit types: single permit; general import permit [GIP]; general licences: ordinary general export permit, extraordinary general export permit and general export permit.

The provisions concerning the quantities admitted without a permit are stated under "Tolerance". "Tolerance" has to be understood in terms of gross weight (kg).

These tolerances are also applicable when several consignments coming from different suppliers and individually exempt from permit are grouped in a collective declaration.

Insofar as possible, goods considered as war material or which may be used for civil and military purposes (dual-use goods) are marked with the German acronym for the permit offices, i.e. "BWRP" or "BWIP", in the "Display details" page under "Permit obligation". There are no references to transit, traveller traffic and border traffic. The information in Tares is intended only as a reference; the lists and/or names are not complete or exclusive. The permit obligation is governed by Annex 1 to the War Material Ordinance (WMO) and the corresponding goods and chemicals lists in the Goods Control Ordinance (GCO, SR 946.202.1) and the Chemicals Control Ordinance (ChCO, SR 946.202.21).

"Goods that can be used for civil and military purposes (dual-use goods).

In the case of permit-exempt export, the comment "exempt de permis" (no permit required) must be specified in the export declaration.

This reference (in accordance with Art. 20 GCO and Art. 22 ChCO) means for the exporter that the goods in question may require an export permit. In order to assess the permit obligation definitively, the exporter must consult Annexes 2, 3 and 5 to the Goods Control Ordinance (SR 946.202.1) or the Annex to the Chemicals Control Ordinance (SR 946.202.21). If no export reference number can be attributed, the goods can generally be exported without a permit, and the comment "exempt de permis" (no permit required) must be specified in the export declaration. At the request of the State Secretariat for Economic Affairs (SECO), Export Controls/Industrial Products Division (BWIP), it must at all times be possible to prove, by means of the appropriate documentation, that the permit-free export took place rightfully. If an export reference number can be attributed to the goods, an export permit must be requested from BWIP. The provisions of Art. 4 of the Goods Control Ordinance, "Reporting requirements", remain reserved: The planned export of goods that are not subject to the permit obligation must be reported to SECO if the exporter knows that the goods are intended, or could be intended, for the development, production or use of weapons of mass destruction or of delivery systems for such weapons.
